Using the plot (women) command. The plot command provides a quick and easy way of visualizing the data. Our objective here is simply to see the relationship of the data.